UNITED STATES COURTS FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

New Circuit Judges

Hon. Mary H. Murguia

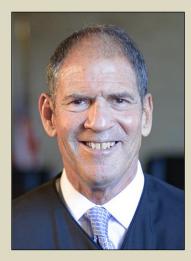

Hon. Morgan Christen

Hon. Jacqueline H. Nguyen

Hon. Paul J. Watford

Hon. Andrew D. Hurwitz

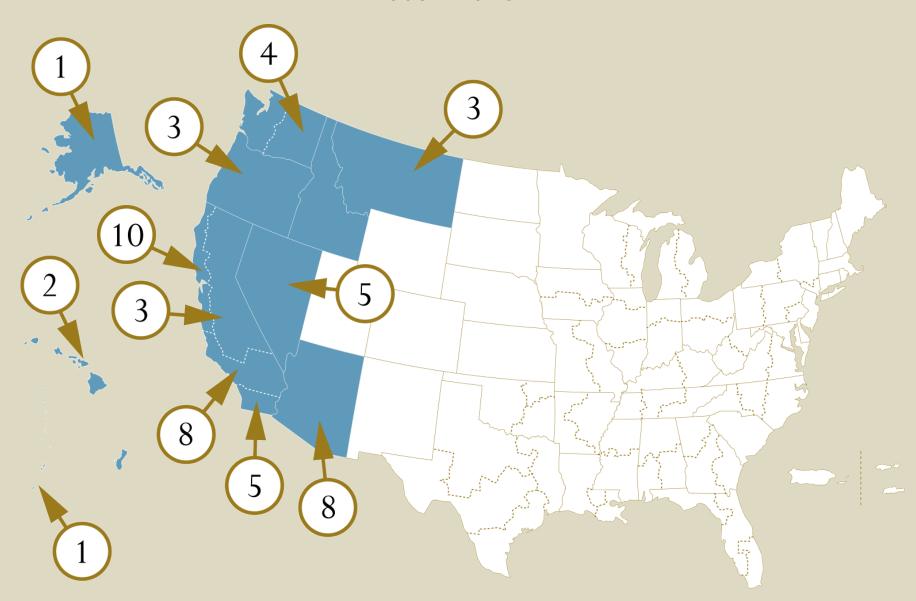

Hon. John B. Owens

Hon. Michelle T. Friedland

NEW DISTRICT JUDGES SEATED

2008 - 2014

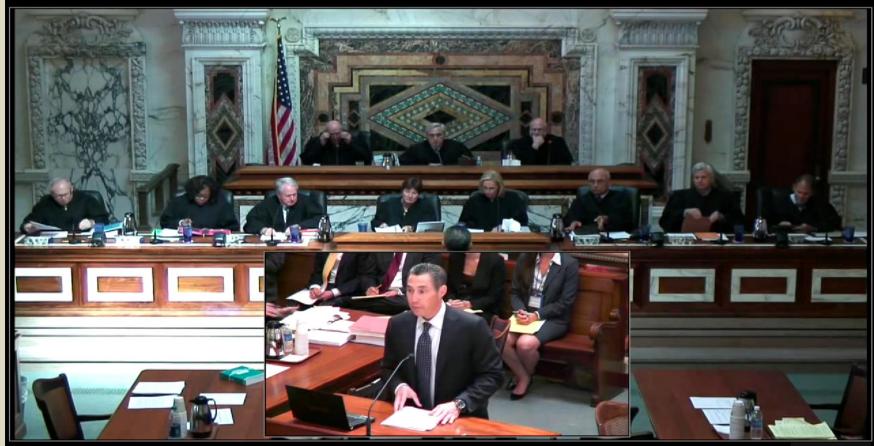

11-50311 United States v. Maloney

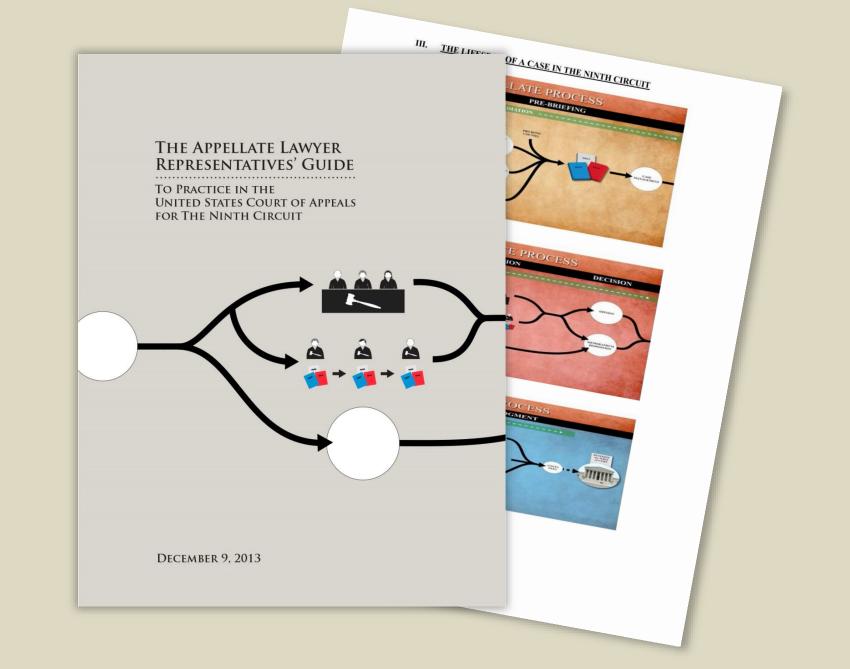

Speed Normal +

Quality Auto (720p HD) +

Pacific Islands Legal Institute

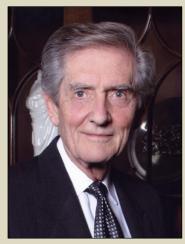

Chief Circuit Judges

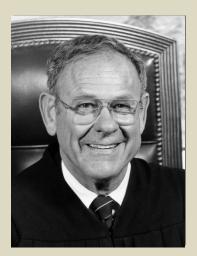

Honorable Mary H. Schroeder Chief Judge: 12/01/2000 - 11/30/2007

Honorable Procter Hug, Jr. Chief Judge: 3/01/1996 - 11/30/2000

Honorable J. Clifford Wallace Chief Judge: 2/01/1991 - 3/01/1996

Honorable Alfred T. Goodwin Chief Judge: 6/16/1988 - 1/31/1991

Government Shuts Down in Budget Impasse

By JONATHAN WEISMAN and JEREMY W. PETERS

WASHINGTON — A flurry of last-minute moves by the House, Senate and White House late Monday failed to break a bitter budget standoff over President Obama's health care law, setting in matiernment shutdown in nearly two

Budget Cuts Imperil Federal Court System,

Roberts Says

By ADAM LIPTAK

The New York Times

August 25, 2013

Federal Courts in Crisis observed the federal court sy By THE EDITORIAL BOARD

Observers of the federal court system cannot recall the last time such a thing has happened, if it ever has. Chief stice Johi 94 Federal District Courts around the country — more than half of them Republican appointees — have now join a million others would be asked to e midnight deadline that "agencies because Congress had failed to act to public defenders By Ann E. Marimow and Keith L. Alexander,

Federal courthouses in the Washington region will keep their door cuts, but some key players in the courtrooms are likely to be missi

Sequester's furloughs worry federal judges,

Federal prosecutors, public defenders and U.S. marshals, all critical in Maryland, Virginia and the District, have been told to plan on the furlough days beginning as soon as this month.

To accommodate absences, U.S. District Judge Royce C. Lamber District, is preparing to call off criminal proceedings every other Fri Lamberth said that he hopes the scaled-back schedule is temporary happens next year? We just don't know."

Judicial leaders are warning Congress that the federal spending cuts jeopardize the court system's ability to carry out its constitutional mi will result in delays in trials; fewer probation officers to supervise felless money for court-ordered drug testing and courthouse security.

At the District's two local courts, which rely heavily on federal fundi Hallways, restrooms and courtrooms will not be cleaned as often. The well-known rodent problem at D.C. Superior Court.

"Clearly, this is not ideal," said Anita Jarman, a Superior Court spok the a local verme to save money, according

Government Gets Back to Business, but Effects of the Shutdown Linger ars of flat financing followed by Washin o stop starving federal courts of adequa I the Judiciary and Appropriations con r nation's federal trial courts." They o stating impact on court operations nat nce 1999 despite a significant increase fiscal 2013 has slowed the processing or some Fridays.

and pretrial services officers availal erving time in prison for serious crir lable for drug, mental health and se network of high-quality federal defi s have been laid off, and the salarie to 20 unpaid furlough days. "We a a program that has taken years to the Judicial Conference of the Ur ninimize further cuts to the feder ates for private cour

Honorable Sidney R. Thomas

UNITED STATES COURTS FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

